

2006 Tech Lecture Series: February

*"I had a Birdy,
his name was Enza.
I opened the window,
and in flew Enza."*

-Children's rhyme popular during the influenza epidemic of 1918

Mary Jane Ferraro, Ph.D., M.P.H.,
Director of the Clinical Microbiology Lab, presents

"The Bird Flu"

Three times only!

Tues., Feb. 7th at 7:30am and 3:00pm, both in Gray 245

Weds., Feb. 8th at 11am in Putschar, Warren Basement

PRESENTED IN MICROSCOPE

STARRING:

PEOPLE • PATHOGENS • CHICKENS • WATER FOWL

ALSO INVOLVED:

AND INTRODUCING:

INFLUENZA A H5N1

Ever wonder what happens in OTHER LABS? Here is an OPPORTUNITY to find out!
Learn about new tests, technologies, techniques...in other areas of our department! All tech staff are invited!

PLEASE DO NOT SEE THE END FIRST!! See it from the beginning.